

WOMEN AGED 31-36 YEARS AND WORK

WE ASKED WOMEN
ABOUT THEIR WORK

This is what they told us...

- * About a third of women were doing more than 35 hours of full-time permanent work per week
- * Around 29% were doing some kind of part-time work
- * Of those who weren't in paid work, a few (about 6%) were actively seeking work.

The research on which this information is based was conducted as part of the Australian Longitudinal Study on Women's Health, the University of Newcastle and the University of Queensland. We are grateful to the Australian Government Department of Health for funding, and the women who provide the survey data.
